NATIONAL FFA & KRAFT Scholarship internship

So What's the Deal?

Overview of the Internship

You would be based from where you are currently living. You would be responsible for proactively contacting universities with Food Science Departments, building relationships, and visiting campuses for class presentations and meetings to seek out highly qualified candidates for Kraft Internships. Strong communication skills, a passion for strengthening the future of the Food Science industry, and being a bridge for college students and their future is a must!

Are You the One?

Intern Qualifications

As a strong candidate you should exemplify follow through, demonstrate self initiative, enjoy speaking in front of groups, and exude a charismatic personality. Preference will be given to a Food Science Major, however not required. Almost 100% of this opportunity requires travel, therefore you must be willing and able to dedicate the time and energy to get up and go! You should have been an active FFA member in high school and share a passion to grow the FFA experience beyond high school through promoting our Collegiate Programs. Ideally, you will be able to take this Fall Semester/Quarter off, or at least be taking a light load of courses.

Perks? We have them!

Scholarship Internship

What do we mean by Scholarship Internship? We mean we are offering you an all expense paid internship, but rather than an hourly wage we award you with a $2,000 scholarship for your semester long experience. Your travel and related expenses are taken care of. If you would like to move to Indianapolis and be based from the National FFA Center, we can discuss those options. Oh yeah, did we mention free travel?

What Are You Waiting For?

We Need YOU Now!

We want the right person to join our team starting by Mid-September through December...so you need to act fast before you miss this opportunity!

Do not be afraid to pick up the phone or email, let's talk!
